'Stock In America'

One of the soundest investments the wage earner can place a fraction of his income in is also an easy way to save against future needs.

A number of years ago U.S. Savings Bonds were passed up by many who wanted to try something with a higher prospective return. But U.S. bonds have again become competitive, and no safer way to be assured of a sound return on investment is on the boards.

Millions of working Americans during the course of many years have turned to the payroll savings plan for an easy and simple way to put aside a small portion of their earnings in government bonds.

Now they can earn 5-1/2 per cent on their investment over a relatively short span of years. It's a sound way to save and to express your confidence in your country at the same time.

Special Problem Of Publishers

Newspapers and magazines, through their national associations, have instigated legal proceedings for enlightenment on the proposed increase in their mailing costs by an average of 20 per cent in mid-May. It is part of a proposed 142 per cent jump in second class mail rates proposed over a five year period.

Newspapers and magazines have a particular problem in regard to mail rates that general business does not have. Subscribers who get their newspapers and magazines by mail pay their subscriptions in advance and any mail rate increase requires a period of time of extra and unforeseeable expense which has to be directly absorbed until either the subscription price or other sources of income - or both - can be adjusted.

Publishers are not fighting the new U.S. Postal Service or denying there is a need for higher postal rates and postal reform. The suit has been filed in order to assure a hearing on the proposed increases and the method of assessing them.

Lady Congress
Members for
'Lib' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of the ladies in the House are hoping to get more women out of the home with a $10 billion push in Congress.

Reps. Bella Abzug and Shirley Chisholm put the price tag attached to their bill for a massive new program of day care centers, aimed at liberating mothers everywhere while somebody else minds the kids.

Of course, says the flamboyant Mrs. Abzug, D-N.Y., the idea also is to help the children, mostly preschoolers, develop skills and interests.

But the irony now, she stresses, is that folks who talk glibly about nurturing the potential of youngsters forget that more than half the adult population, namely the women, are suffering underachievement as well.

"Isn't it clear yet," she asks, "that if a woman must stay home to care for the kids she won't be about to go to school? Take a job? Work harder for a promotion?"

"Isn't it clear that she will be doomed to hold low-paying, low-prestige jobs that no man would hold still for?"

Mrs. Abzug and Mrs. Chisholm, another New York Democrat, advanced their proposal to the House Select subcommittee on education Monday and later elaborated at a news conference.

The bill calls for expenditures of $5 billion in fiscal 1973, $8 billion in 1974 and $10 billion for 1975 and thereafter.

The funds would be used to establish or expand child care centers throughout the nation, including some to operate 24 hours per day to accommodate night workers. All children, regardless of family income, would be eligible.

Rail Strike
Stirs Action
in CongressBy NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide railroad strike sent mounting ripples of paralysis through much of the economy for the second day today as Congress considered an emergency bill to halt the walkout.

Major steel and automobile firms slashed production, tons of perishable foods piled up on rail sidings, 300,000 commuters had to find other transportation and the New York stock market suffered its sharpest loss in a year.

President Nixon, telling Congress "it is essential that our railroads continue to operate," asked the strike be halted until July 1 to allow more time for the industry to bargain with the 13,000 members of the striking Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen.

The Senate Labor Committee, after hearing from the railroads, the union and Nixon administration spokesmen, indicated sentiment for extending the delay to Oct. 1 and writing signalmen an immediate pay increase.

Both sides in the dispute promised to abide by such a plan which would raise top pay for signalmen from the present $3.78 an hour to $4.46.

Strike-delaying legislation likely would reach the President's desk tonight unless the House and Senate approve widely different plans requiring more time for compromise.

The signalmen struck at dawn Monday after all legal delays had been exhausted over more than 16 months of negotiations.

Some 500,000 other rail workers in the tightly unionized industry refused to cross picket lines of signalmen who install, inspect and maintain trackside electric signal devices.

Spokesmen said the steel industry—already stockpiling in anticipation of a possible strike of its own when its contracts expire in August—was forced into immediate production cutbacks.

U.S. Steel, the nation's biggest producer of steel, reduced coke production 10 per cent Monday and said if the walkout lasts 48 hours, "the problems will really start to get serious."

Jones and Laughlin steel wired Congress that unless the strike ends "within the next five days we will be forced to shut down facilities and furlough many thousands of workers at plants in Pittsburgh, Chicago and Cleveland."

The auto industry, heavily dependent on rails for incoming parts and outgoing cars, felt effects of the strike quickly, cutting back production and promising to close factories if the walkout continues.

Matthau's Biggest Job Today Is 'Just Being Alive'-Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Each day is a bonus, a free ride to me," said actor Walter Matthau.

"The thing that gives me most pleasure in life today is simply being alive. I had a massive heart attack five years ago that was supposed to kill me but didn't."

"A heart attack is a big insult to your psyche as well as your physiology. I believe mine must have changed my personality—and for the better. Anyway, I've gotten more leading film roles since then."

His latest starring vehicle is a screen version of Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite," following smash performances in "The Fortune Cookie," "The Odd Couple," and "Hello, Dolly."

"If you start from nothing and drive yourself to a false fiduciary success, you are almost bound to have a heart attack," he remarked.

Presence of Yank
Troops Main Prop of Peace, German SaysBy HUBERT J. ERB

DUISDORF, Germany (AP)

"The presence of the Americans prevents a war, says the commander of West Germany's army, arguing against Sen. Mike Mansfield's proposal to bring home half the U.S. troops in Europe.

Gen Ulrich de Maiziere said in an interview Monday American troops provide more protection against attack by the Soviet Union than the same number of West Germans or Dutch because "no one else could play the same role."

"The difference is this," said the inspector general of the Bundeswehr. "No Russian will attempt an attack, if, when he attacks, he meets an American ... The Soviets would not risk such a meeting because they would run the immediate risk of coming up against American nuclear power."

Should American forces be reduced from 300,000 to 150,000 soldiers as the Senate majority leader proposes, de Maiziere asserted: "I would have to ask myself if the Americans then would be ready to respond with their nuclear power if it became necessary."

De Maiziere added: "I have complete confidence in the acceptance by the Americans of their alliance responsibilities ... But another question is whether a potential aggressor also has this confidence ... Every weakening of the U.S. presence in Europe could lead to a miscalculation by Moscow that the Americans had weakened their interest in Europe."

"And as long as we have a chance to talk with the Warsaw Pact about a mutual reduction of forces, for so long we in the West cannot reduce unilaterally since it would better the Eastern position without them having to pay for it."

The Warsaw Pact is the Soviet Bloc's equivalent of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

'Know Nothing' Idea
Charged to Rightist
Lawyers by BurgerBy BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said today "adrenalin-fueled" lawyers who confuse insulience and arrogance with zealous advocacy are bringing a 20th Century version of Know-Nothingism to America.

At the drop of a hat, he said, practitioners of "the new litigation" cry out theirs is a political trial, making rules of evidence, canons of ethics and codes of professional conduct irrelevant.

Burger included editorials "shrill with invective" and savage political cartoons as targets of his displeasure in a speech prepared for the American Law Institute entitled "The Necessity for Civility."

The unusual address, opening the institute's Spring meeting, was laced with references to the press. "When men shout and shriek or call names, we witness the end of rational thought process if not the beginning of blows and combat," Burger said. "I hardly dare take the risk of adding that this may also be relevant to the news media."

The chief justice named no lawyers nor newspaper in his criticism. The one incident he related involved Archibald Cox, the former U.S. collector general who teaches at Harvard Law School.

Burger, quoting an account in the New York Times, said Cox was a few weeks ago "tried to speak to his own students at Harvard" and was met with a screaming, chanting audience. Cox, said Burger, told his students: "Freedom of speech is indivisible. You cannot deny it to one man and save it for others."

The chief justice, titling his speech "The Necessity for Civility," recalled 19th century England as well as America. In England, he said, lawyers were brash and swaggering and judges intemperate and blustering. Here, he went on, there was pistol whipping and caning in Congress, news media were intensely partisan and vicious and political leaders horse-whipped reporters.

New Front
Brings Rain
Forecast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thundershowers were expected to move into the state today, triggered by a cold front that may bring severe weather, the National Weather Service says.

The weather service said showers and thundershowers would spread eastward through the state this afternoon and tonight, ending Wednesday.

It said warm temperatures and humid southerly winds might establish conditions for the possibility of severe weather tonight as the cold front moves closer to the state. The weather service said severe thunderstorm watches "quite likely" would be issued for some portions of the state tonight.

It said showers will end Wednesday and that fair and cooler weather will return to the state Thursday. The extended outlook calls for pleasant weather to continue into Saturday.

Fire Now
Near Control

ELY, Minn. (AP) — U.S. Forest Service officials say a blaze in the Boundary Waters Canoe area of Superior National Forest has been held to 23 square miles and they expect it to be under control today.

Up to 550 fire fighters worked to control the blaze since it was spotted Friday from a patrol aircraft, and officials sent 200 home Monday night as conditions improved.

A half-inch of rain and low winds helped fire fighters hold the fire Monday to the 23 square miles it had covered by late Sunday.

Damage and fire fighting costs were estimated at almost $1 million late Monday.

Europe Troop
Cut Faces
DefeatBy WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)

Strategists on both sides of the Senate move to force withdrawal of 150,000 U.S. troops from Western Europe say the measure will be defeated, reflecting a survey indicating President Nixon's allies are ahead.

But undecided senators and efforts to compromise the issue still cloud the outlook for Wednesday's Senate decision.

An Associated Press survey showed 42 senators opposed to the troop-cut amendment or leaning that way. Thirty-seven senators are committed or leaning in favor of the measure. The other 21 are undecided or refuse to disclose their positions.

Republican sources in the Senate and at the White House said the measure sponsored by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield would be rejected in a yes-or-no vote. A Democratic source said the same thing.

Mansfield said he has a "very good—well, fairly good chance" of winning approval if he can get his measure to a clear vote. His amendment would impose a 150,000-man ceiling, half the present force, on U.S. troops stationed in Europe after Dec. 31.

But votes on a series of amendments and variations will come first, raising the prospect the Mansfield measure will be modified or supplanted before the final vote.

Mansfield has spurned all compromise. So has the White House.

Meanwhile, a State Department spokesman said the United States will consult NATO allies about the Soviet Union's expressed willingness to discuss mutual military reductions in Europe.

U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam met Monday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow, State Department spokesman Charles Bray told newsmen.

"Mr. Gromyko then confirmed that the Soviet government was prepared to discuss force reductions and expressed interest in further exchanges on this matter," Bray said.

One of the most ambitious White House lobbying campaigns of the Nixon administration is being deployed against Mansfield's proposal.

Republican sources are claiming a three- or four-vote margin against the Mansfield amendment.

The AP survey showed 36 firm and six probable votes against the Mansfield amendment; 25 firm and 12 probable votes for it.

But at least eight senators now expected to vote against the Mansfield measure are among sponsors of alternative measures.

Charge Cut
for No.2
Murder Man

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — James A. Latham, 26, of Paragould, pleaded guilty Monday morning to a reduced charge of second-degree murder in the death of Miss Judy Evans of Rector. Monday afternoon, Latham was a free man.

Latham, who had spent more than two years in jail at Walnut Ridge awaiting trial, had that time counted off his 15-year sentence and Circuit Judge John S. Mosby suspended the rest of the sentence.

Paragould Police Chief Lloyd Hill said Latham was already out of the state late Monday afternoon.

Latham had earlier turned state's evidence against Clyde Ray Glover of Paragould, who is serving a life sentence for the death of Miss Evans, 21, whose body was found in the burned wreckage of her father's car in a gravel pit near Paragould March 1, 1969.

Apportionment PlanBoard's
Plan Well

LITTLE ROCK (AP)

With few exceptions, state senators and other state officials seem satisfied — or at least willing to accept — the plan to redistrict the Arkansas Senate.

A state Senate redistricting plan, which leaves 54 counties intact and provides a population variance of about 1 1/2 per cent among the 35 districts, was adopted Monday by the state Board of Apportionment.

No action was taken on a redistricting plan for the House, although the board is expected to meet again Wednesday to adopt a House plan.

Two senators who did voice displeasure with the plan were Burrell A. Thompson of Paragould and Tom Watson of Monette. They were the only two incumbents who wound up in the same Senate district.

Thompson was elected in old District 23, which was composed of Greene and Clay counties, and Watson was elected in old District 24, which was composed of Craighead, Mississippi and Poinsett counties. The new district includes Clay, Greene and a portion of north and east Craighead county. Watson lives in the portion of eastern Craighead County that is in the new district.

Watson said he did not think the new division was fair. "Craighead County was the only county in the 1st Congressional District that gained in population in the 1970 census," Watson said. "I don't think they should have cut the county in half to separate me from the county seat (Jonesboro)."

He also said that most of his voter strength was in the Jonesboro area and he might have difficulty in defeating Thompson if the two were to face each other in an election.

The line that separates eastern and western Craighead, which includes Jonesboro, is only a few miles from Watson's residence and he did not rule out the possibility of moving across the line into the district which includes Jonesboro.

Thompson said he did not like the idea of having to run against a fellow senator, but "as it stands now I guess I'll have to."

Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin noted that his new district now was composed of parts of four counties.

"I'm just wondering about paying the fee (as a candidate for office) in four counties," Bell said. "I might have to borrow the money to do that."

Bell's new districts is composed of parts of Poinsett, Cross, St. Francis and Lee counties.

Anwar Jails
Opposition
in Egypt

CAIRO (AP) — Former Vice President Aly Sabry and other former high-ranking officials accused of plotting to overthrow President Anwar Sadat were taken to jail at dawn today and may soon face public trial, informed sources reported.

Sabry, six former cabinet ministers and others ousted last week had been under house arrest since Sadat launched his purge on Thursday.

The sources said full details of the plot would be made public when the investigation now under way is completed. But meanwhile they gave this preview of the plans Sadat's foes had made:

Labib Shukair, the speaker of the National Assembly, was to be installed as figurehead president. Sabry, considered Moscow's man in the Egyptian hierarchy and a man of considerable unpopularity, was to boss the Arab Socialist Union, the country's only political party.

Interior Minister Sharawi Gornaa, whose ministry controls the police, had deployed his men throughout Cairo with instructions to use force if necessary to keep order once Sadat was out of the way.

The presence of Lt. Gen. Mohamed Fawzi, the war minister, was supposed to insure the army's support.

All are now under arrest. Meanwhile, Sadat's purge spread along the grass roots level. Newspapers reported a number of officials at the government radio and TV station have been arrested for a direct role in the conspiracy. They were said to have changed the regular program Thursday evening and substituted martial and patriotic songs.

Such music traditionally signals momentous events in the Arab world. In this case, it followed the announcement that six cabinet ministers and three officials of the government political party had resigned.

The change in program evidently was intended to give the impression that Sadat's regime was collapsing around him. However, the president arrested his foes.

Districting
of House Due
Wednesday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A state Senate redistricting plan was adopted Monday by the state Board of Apportionment. The board is expected to meet again Wednesday to take action on a plan to redistrict the House of Representatives.

The Senate plan leaves 54 counties intact and provides a population variance of about 1 1/2 per cent among the 35 districts.

The vote was unanimous although Gov. Dale Bumpers, chairman of the board, decided the outcome by not seconding a proposal offered by Atty. Gen. Ray H. Thornton Jr. and by seconding the plan offered by Secretary of State Kelly Bryant.

Adoption of the Senate plan came almost exactly two hours after the board sat down in a work session more than 2 1/2 months past the Feb. 1 deadline set by the state Constitution for legislative reapportionment.

Each board member indicated at one time or another some degree of dissatisfaction with each of the maps they inspected, but Bumpers said no map could be devised to satisfy everybody's desire in every case.

The plan adopted by the board Monday finalized Senate reapportionment for all of the state except the Pulaski County area. The board decided to make a decision later on the boundary lines for the five Senate positions that will be wholly or in part in Pulaski County.

The only incumbents who wound up in the same Senate district under the board's plan were Sens. Burrell A. Thompson of Paragould and Tom Watson of Monette. Some incumbents, however, are expected to be in the same district when the boundaries are drawn for the districts in Pulaski County.

Little Rock and North Little Rock are the only cities to be split in the Senate redistricting. Under the House plan that is expected to be adopted, Hot Springs, Texarkana, Pine Bluff, Fort Smith, El Dorado, Helena, Jonesboro, Blytheville, Fayetteville and West Memphis will be split.

Here are the districts, which haven't been numbered, approved Monday:

N. Vietnam Rockets Wipe Out Town

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A heavy rocket attack virtually wiped out the small Laotian town of Ban Dong Hene on the western edge of the Ho Chi Minh trail, in the second day of stepped-up assaults by North Vietnamese forces in the Laotian panhandle, authorities reported.

Some veteran observers of the Laotian scene said the surge of attacks may be an attempt to pressure Premier Souvanna Phouma into demanding an end to U.S. bombing of the North Vietnamese supply routes through southern Laos.

While action in South Vietnam and Cambodia was generally light and scattered, one official commented that "the Communists are hitting more places at the same time in Laos than I can remember ever before."

The North Vietnamese on Sunday seized the towns of Pak Song and Ban Houei Sai, giving them control of almost all of the Bolovens plateau, at the southern end of the panhandle.

Dong Hene is about 100 miles northwest of the plateau, on Highway 9 between the Laotian government's regional military headquarters at Savannakhet and Muong Phalane, on the western edge of the Ho Chi Minh trail. The North Vietnamese took Muong Phalane two weeks ago.

Dong Hene had a population of about 1,500. An official in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, said soldiers and civilians began fleeing when the first barrage of rockets came in Monday afternoon.

"About 75 per cent of Dong Hene went up in flames," he reported, but he said he had no information on casualties.

At least 50 Laotian government troops were reported killed in the battle Sunday for Pak Song.

In another rocket attack in Laos, enemy gunners blew up an ammunition dump and damaged the airstrip at Paksane, on the Mekong river 75 miles northeast of Vientiane. Three civilians and three government troops were reported wounded.

In Saigon, South Vietnamese headquarters reported an attack against a government position on the eastern edge of the A Shau valley. A communiqué said that North Vietnamese sappers moving behind a 40-round mortar barrage attempted to penetrate the position but were driven back and five were killed. There were no South Vietnamese casualties, the communiqué said.

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 12 enemy soldiers in a clash 35 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, in Eastern Cambodia. Three South Vietnamese were reported killed and six wounded.

La. Fraud Jury Is on 3rd Day

By GUY COATES

Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A defense motion to declare a mistrial in the fraud trial of Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P.F. Gremillion and two others was left open today after the judge said a sick juror apparently would be able to continue deliberations.

U.S. District Judge Alvin Rubin said a doctors report indicated the juror, Mrs. Exso Rome, was not seriously ill.

Rubin left avenues open for defense attorneys to file further arguments but meanwhile the jury continued deliberations.

The case went to the jury Friday night, but was delayed briefly Monday when Mrs. Rome became ill.

Rubin told attorneys the doctor's examination indicated she suffered simple gastric disturbance and there was no reason why she would not continue as a juror.

Rubin ordered the jury back into session Monday evening after a physician stated that Mrs. Rome was "able and willing" to resume jury duty.

It marked the third time that illness has delayed proceedings in the trial of Gremillion, state Rep. Salvatore Anzelmo and Ernest Bartlett Jr. They are charged with conspiracy and fraud in connection with the financial collapse of L.L.T.

Mrs. Rome's condition was described as just a bout of nervousness, said Mrs. Lenora Rand, a government-employed nurse.

"She explained to me she had never done this before sat on a jury and she wanted desperately to do a good job," said Mrs. Rand.

Attorneys for the defendants questioned Mrs. Rand in court, asking her about sedation she administered to the juror.

Court sources said there had been discussion among the defense attorneys of the possibility of a mistrial because of the woman's illness.

But defense attorneys lodged no objections when the doctor's report was read and Judge Rubin ordered deliberations to continue.

Only 8th of Cong Supply Gets Through

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. military officials say only about one out of each eight tons of supplies North Vietnam put into the Ho Chi Minh trail got through to its troops in South Vietnam and Cambodia during the recent six-month dry season.

This amounted to about 7,500 tons of supplies, about 18,500 less than needed, and was the lowest total to pass down the trail in several years, the officials calculate.

They say that night and day attacks on North Vietnamese trucks by U.S. planes caused the bulk of the supply loss with the South Vietnamese ground operation into Laos also sharing credit.

American military analysts claim more than 22,000 North Vietnamese trucks were destroyed or damaged between Nov. 1 and May 4, roughly twice as many as in the comparable dry season last year.

The analysts say the cut in the supplies means North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops will lack ammunition and other military necessities until the next dry season in the fall.

This means the Northern and Viet Cong troops will be in no position to threaten major offensives when the dry weather returns in November, they say and Hanoi will have to gear up another big resupply drive against strong U.S. air opposition.

U.S. officials indicate the result will be a continued U.S. troop withdrawal without serious threat to shrinking American forces in South Vietnam.

U.S. military officials say the North Vietnamese sent more than 57,300 tons into the Ho Chi Minh trail in the 1968-69 dry season and got about 12,400 tons through to their forces. At the time, they still had access to other supplies through a Cambodian seaport.

In the 1969-70 dry season, Hanoi succeeded in pushing through about 19,000 tons of supplies out of about 55,500 put into the trail, officials said.

Before the most recent dry season opened last autumn, however, North Vietnam lost access to the Cambodian port because of the changeover in Cambodia's government.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has given final approval to a bill carrying a 5-per-cent increase in Social Security benefits and the basics of President Nixon's welfare-reform plan.

"I have been assured by the President himself that the administration is in full support of this bill," the committee chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Monday.

Although President Nixon would have preferred not to have the benefit increases tied to welfare, Mills said, the $12-billion legislation has bipartisan backing and should clear the House easily.

The estimated $2.1-billion benefit boost would take effect June 1, 1972, on the heels of a 10-per-cent increase this year and a 15-per-cent hike last year.

It was written in by a 13-12 vote Monday after Rep. Joe D. Waggoner Jr., D-La., shifted his position from last Thursday.

The welfare portion of the measure, a modification of Nixon's family assistance plan, was criticized anew by the National Welfare Rights Organization and a Coalition, Campaign for Adequate Welfare Reform Now.

"The bill is an insurance policy for state treasuries but hurts poor people, especially women and children," said George A. Wiley, executive director of the National Welfare Rights Organization.

"It is worse than the present welfare system," commented David M. Ackerman of the National Council of Churches, a member of the Coalition.

By establishing a $2,400 income floor for families of four, the Federal government would take on a bigger share of the nation's welfare costs.

Mills said the measure would make it harder to get on welfare and easier to get off. He cited federal regulated screening and uniform national standards for eligibility, and job training and financing of public service jobs.

The proposed Social Security benefit increase next year would impose no immediate payroll tax hikes beyond those already contained in the measure to pay for the boost passed earlier this year.

The three were identified as the Rev. Marc Reuver, a Dutch Carmelite and the commission's press spokesman; the Rev. Pierre La Chapelle, a French Diocesan priest, secretary of the commission, and Miss Carolina Cohen, a Dutch laywoman who worked up reports on social problems.

The Vatican's press spokesman, Federico Alessandrini, said he had no comment for the moment.

The resignations, believed the first of their kind in Pope Paul's eight-year reign, reflected the discontent smoldering among progressives in the Curia, the central administration of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Justice and Peace Commission is among the most progressive departments in the Curia. Established on Jan. 6, 1967, it is headed by Maurice Cardinal Roy of Canada.

Impersonates Brother for Vietnam Tour, and Army Dislikes It

YARMOUTH, Maine (AP) —

The father of an Army rifleman whose older brother went to Vietnam to finish out his tour of duty says the younger brother is now en route back to Vietnam.

Carleton R. Storer added Monday night that the older brother, Wesley, 22, was being held by military authorities in Vietnam and could be sentenced to five years in a South Vietnamese prison for illegal entry.

Storer said Wesley, himself kept out of the war by a bad leg, agreed to impersonate his brother Glenn, 21, after the radio operator-rifleman came home to Yarmouth April 9 for a two-week leave after five months in Vietnam.

Storer said Glenn was shipped out of Ft. Devens, Mass., late Monday.

He said that a few weeks after Glenn's leave ended federal officials notified him that someone was impersonating Glenn in Vietnam and asked him to verify identification. "It was then he learned that all this switching they'd been kicking around had become a reality," Storer said.

Wesley, interviewed in Vietnam by a CBS-TV newsman, said his brother's buddies covered up for him, but he was turned in the day before a march into the field.

Storer, who also has a 17-year-old son and a 5-year-old daughter, said that after hearing from federal authorities he contacted Glenn's girl friend and the next day Glenn called from Virginia. He then returned to Portland to surrender to federal authorities, his father said.

"Glenn didn't want to go back," his father recalled. "He told us it's all pointless over there and that they were playing games with his life."

Storer, an engineer, said Glenn had worked with his surveying crews before he entered the service and had never been interested in antiwar movements. "But he was embittered when he came back," Storer said.

There will be no communications gap. There will be a communications yap, because we'll do a lot of talking.

Pill Poses No Cancer Threat

By BILL STOCKTON

AP Science Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A two-year study of 220 women taking birth control pills indicates the pills do not cause breast cancer and may even deter breast lumps, a British doctor says.

Dr. Martin P. Vessey, lecturer in epidemiology at Oxford University told an American Cancer Society conference on breast cancer Monday:

"No evidence has been found so far that oral contraceptives are associated with an increased risk of breast neoplasia (tumors). Indeed, these preliminary data suggest that the preparations tend to protect against the development of benign (noncancerous) lesions."

Women admitted to five London hospitals with breast lumps were interviewed by Vessey and two other researchers from Dec. 1, 1968, until last Dec. 31, he said. Fifty-four patients had cancerous tumors and 166 had benign tumors, and for each patient with breast lumps, a patient admitted for other reasons was studied.

Vessey said the research seemed to indicate that birth control pills do not cause cancer.

"The number of patients is small, but they provide some evidence that oral contraceptives may protect against benign breast disease," he said.

However, Dr. Edward F. Lewison of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore said certain women should not take birth control pills.

He noted a long association of high estrogen levels with development of breast lumps in animals and humans and said about 300,000 women will get breast cancer in the next five years.

High-risk groups he cautioned against using the pill include women with a family history of breast cancer, women who have had cancer of one breast or recurrent noncancerous breast lumps and women with suspicious breast X-rays.

Union Goof

When Mike was fired from his job as a mechanic, the company cited "incompetence" as the reason. But Mike thought the real reason was prejudice. At his request, the union started the grievance machinery in motion.

Eventually, the arbitrator ruled against him. But Mike, still not satisfied, decided to file a damage suit against the union itself.

"They just didn't try hard enough," he argued in court. "At the arbitration hearing, the union representatives didn't even know the facts of my case. Furthermore, they forgot to tell me the date of the hearing, so I wasn't even there. They also forgot to keep record of proceedings."

The court decided that the union had indeed fallen down on its job and would have to pay damages to Mike. The judge said a union must show reasonable diligence in standing up for the rights of its members.

Most courts agree. However, that does not mean a union is liable every time a member's grievance is turned down. As a practical matter, the law gives a union considerable leeway in deciding how to handle a particular grievance.

In another case, involving a discharged welder, the union flatly refused to ask for arbitration at all. When the man took the matter to court, the union pointed out that he had repeatedly failed to show up for work.

Thereupon, the court held that the union was exercising a legitimate discretion in not putting up a fight. A union that pushes weak grievances, said the court, would soon lose its effectiveness in pushing strong grievances.

Furthermore, a union may even be justified in favoring one group of members at the expense of another. Thus:

Two companies merged, raising questions of job seniority among their respective employees. Negotiating with management, the union worked out a compromise that left some men out of work. Could these men hold the union liable for "failing to represent" their interests?

No, said a court, so long as the union had acted in good faith. The judge said:

"The complete satisfaction of all who are represented is hardly to be expected."

Rotary Club Honors Roy Anderson

Plaques commemorating 50 years of service to Rotary were presented to Roy Anderson and to the widow of Ed McCorkle, a charter member of the Hope Club, at the luncheon meeting of the club Friday, May 14 in the Town and Country. After fitting preliminary remarks, Albert Graves made the presentations.

With new postal rates going into effect two days after the meeting, it was most appropriate for the club to hear Carl Sanders, a Postal Service officer from Hot Springs, speak on "The Postal Service, Something That Touches The Lives Of Every Citizen." He was introduced by Comer Boyett.

"America's postal system, a gigantic operation, is the 10th largest business in the United States with sales of $6.6 billion a year," he said. He discussed the postal reform act of 1970 and its objective. He told the Rotarians that the act would not mean a reduction in advertising mail because commercial direct mail is a profitable source of revenue.

Regarding Saturday mail delivery, he said that adjustments will be made in delivery service in areas where there is little or no demand for Saturday service. "The postal service needs to change to keep up with the changing society in which we live," he explained.

Other facets of the mail service of today which he discussed included 3 types of self-service postal units, the ZIP code, and obscene mail.

"On July 1 the Post Office will transfer authority from bureaucracy bound government control to an independent federal agency. This will mean greater reliability in mail delivery, higher costs aimed at slashing the postal deficit, and faster

Dear Helen:
Today my mother walked into my room, opened my dresser drawer and took out the only four pairs of bikini underpants I own. In their place she put some heavy old cotton numbers that look like training pants yet.

Helen, all my 13- and 14-year-old friends wear bikini panties because they're comfortable and, besides, the tops don't show above hip hugger jeans. But my mother now says they are too "sexy" for my age.

My IGAP (I'm Guessing Again Perception) says your mother got the Kaffee-Klatch jitters. Wanta bet she'd huddled with other mothers that day, discussing the terrible hassles in store for parents who "let their children grow up too soon"?

ABA Title Game Is Tonight

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The Utah Stars and Kentucky Colonels, bruised and exhausted after six rowdy playoff games, will settle the American Basketball Association championship tonight in the seventh and final game.

The game, sold out at 13,208 only two hours after Kentucky tied the series at 3-3 Saturday in Louisville, Ky., will be televised locally and back to Kentucky.

Both teams were runners-up in their divisions, Kentucky losing out to Virginia in the East and Utah placing second to defending ABA champion Indiana in the West.

The Stars took the first two games against Kentucky in the Salt Palace, lost the next two at Louisville, won at the Salt Palace and then lost at Louisville.

The games at Louisville were decided in the closing seconds; the ones at Salt Lake, where Kentucky has yet to win in six games—including regular season, were not close.

The winning team in tonight's game will split $48,130 and the losing team, $40,130.

The coaches, Frank Ramsey of Kentucky and Bill Sharman of Utah, played together for the Boston Celtics and they use the same plays. Both teams live by the fast break. And Ramsey and Sharman have the same aims going into the final game.

"We can't stand around," says Sharman. "We play better when we run."

"We've got to avoid turnovers and not slow down in the last quarter," Ramsey says. "That has happened to us in Utah."

49er Coach Gets 5-Year Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Dick Nolan of the San Francisco 49ers will be working under a new five-year contract when he moves his football team into its new stadium next season.

The 39-year-old coach, who took the 49ers to their first National Football League division title last fall, got the new contract Monday from Lou Spadia, president of the team.

Terms were not disclosed, but Nolan is believed to be in the $75,000-a-year range. His old five-year contract, which had two years to go, was torn up.

The 49ers were 10-3-1 in 1970, Nolan's third season as coach, and won the Western Division of the National Conference. They missed a trip to the Super Bowl by losing 17-10 to the Dallas Cowboys in the NFC title game.

The 49ers will play their home games in Candlestick Park this year, after 25 seasons in Kezar Stadium.

NCAA, AAU to Stage Peace Parley

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A pollible thaw in the long standing feud between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union was hinted Tuesday by the president of the NCAA.

Dr. Earl Ramey indicated in a carefully prepared statement after meeting with AAU President Jack Kelly of Philadelphia, that relations might improve between the two organizations.

"While no commitments involving either organization were made, it is my feeling that through improved understanding of our mutual concerns, a greater cooperation may develop," Ramey said.

Ramey, faculty chairman of athletics at the University of Tennessee, was joined in the talks with Kelly and other AAU officials by Charles Neinas, assistant NCAA executive director, and Bob Woodruff, Tennessee athletic director and a member of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

In addition to Kelly, the AAU was represented by Secretary Richard Harkins and Ollan Cassell, assistant executive director.

Kelly sought the meeting with the NCAA officials in an effort to try to resolve the two groups over administration of amateur athletics in the United States.

The NCAA-AAU feud centers on which group shall control track meets and other amateur athletic events.

The AAU has been the traditional governing body but the NCAA has prohibited college athletes from participating in AAU meets under threat of stripping them of their scholarship.

Roadrunners' Fears Over Home Run Prove Unfounded

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Roadrunner was standing on the corner, watching the baseball go bye, bye.

"Yep, I just watched the ball from the batter's box after I hit it," said Atlanta's Ralph Garr, who carries the "Roadrunner" tag for his blinding speed. "I knew it was out of the park—but I was afraid it might go foul."

The reason for the freeze, Garr said, was that he wanted to conserve his energy—in case the ball was foul "and I would need all my strength to run on the next ball."

Turns out, his fears were unfounded. The ball clattered into the left-field seats in fair territory and gave the Braves a 4-3 victory over the New York Mets in the 11th inning Monday night.

"I'll never forget that," said Atlanta's prize new left-fielder who also had game-tying homer in the 10th and beamed his batting average to a National League-leading .44 with a 3-for-6 night.

Pittsburgh beat Montreal 6-5, Philadelphia turned back Cincinnati 3-2 and Houston beat San Diego 2-0 in the only other National League action.

In the American League, it was New York 6, Baltimore 3; Cleveland 6, Washington 3; Boston 3; Detroit 2, and Minnesota 3, California 2.

New York had AL Weis on third base with the potential lead run in the 11th inning when Atlanta's Bob Priddy threw one of his pitches over the catcher's head. But the ball ricocheted off a back wall and shot back before Weis had a chance to come home.

Garr not only made the timely hits, but timely catches as well. He made two robberies of drives in the outfield, including Bud Harrelson's long belt up the alley in left-center, which the "Roadrunner" simply outran.

Twins Cut Down on California

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota got three smooth shaves from one Blade and the California Angels were left with nothing but the nubs.

Tom "The Blade" Hall came out of the Twins' bullpen in the ninth inning Monday night and struck out three successive pinch-hitters, stranding the tying run on third base and saving a 3-2 Minnesota victory over the Angels.

The 155-pound fireballer, working in relief of Bert Blyleven after singles by Ken McMullen and John Stephenson put the Twins in a deep hole with nobody out, fanned Billy Cowan, Ken Berry and Jim Fregosi to end the game.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston nipped Detroit 3-2, the New York Yankees downed Baltimore 6-3 and Cleveland beat Washington 6-3.

In the National League, Houston blanked San Diego 2-0, Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 3-2, Pittsburgh overcame Montreal 6-5 and Atlanta shaded the New York Mets 4-3 in 12 innings.

At Anaheim, the Twins overcame a 2-0 California lead on George Mitterwald's two-run homer and Jim Nettles' run-scoring single in the fifth inning.

Blyleven, nicked for two unearned runs in the second, went on to strike out 12 and stymied the Angels on five hits until the ninth, when McMullen stroked a leadoff single and raced to third on Stephenson's single.

Hall, who struck out 184 batters in 155 innings last season, then came on to snuff out the rally.

Rod Carew got the Twins started in the fifth with a bunt single—their first hit off left-hander Rudy May—and Mitterwald blasted his first homer of the year to tie it 2-2. Jim Holt followed with a double and netles, recalled from the minors over the weekend, stroked the decisive single.

Alex Johnson, benched for two games by Angels' Manager Lefty Phillips because of his lackluster play, returned to the lineup and poked one hit in four trips to the plate.

The Red Sox widened their East Division lead over second-place Baltimore to 2½ games, coming from behind on George Scott's two-run double in the fifth and then staving off the Tigers with the help of a sensational catch by left fielder Carl Yastrzemski.

With one on and two out in the seventh, Yastrzemski raced to the wall in left center and made a leaping stab of Willie Horton's long drive against the scoreboard, robbing the Detroit slugger of a potential game-tying extra base hit.

Horton slammed a two-run homer off Ray Culp, 4-2, in the fourth to give the Tigers a 2-1 edge, but Scott's two-out double in the fifth scored Luis Aparicio and Reggie Smith, sending former Cy Young Award winner Dean Chance down to his sixth loss in as many decisions.

Roy White poled his seventh homer of the season—a two-run shot on a 3-0 pitch in the first inning—and Gene Michael slapped two run-producing singles to lead the Yankees past the Orioles.

Catcher Elrod Hendricks hit a two-run homer for the Orioles, but his error at the plate in the eighth enable New York to draw away with two unearned runs. Mel Stottlemyre picked up the victory, his fourth against one setback, with eighth-inning relief help from Jack Aker.

Home runs by John Lwens-tein and Hawk Harrelson staked the Indians to an early 4-0 lead and they held off Washington in a game marked by a jarring collision between left fielder Lowenstein, center fielder Vada Pinson and shortstop

Stanley Cup Is at Stake Tonight

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — We're down to the nitty-gritty," Chicago Coach Billy Reay said. "We've got to play our best to win here," Montreal Coach Al MacNeil said.

What it all comes down to tonight is one game. Whoever wins it will own the coveted Stanley Cup, symbol of supremacy in the National Hockey League.

The visiting Canadiens have the edge in tradition. But that hasn't helped them here. The Black Hawks have won all three of their championship-round games at home. Montreal has done the same.

The Canadiens, led by the Mahovich brothers—Frank and Pete—forced this seventh game when they came from behind Sunday with a pair of third-period goals to edge the Hawks 4-3 and tie the series at three games.

"It's now a one-game series," Reay said. It will be nationally televised by CBS starting at 8:30 p.m., EDT, and will bring to a close the longest season in NHL history.

Naturally, both clubs will go all out. That probably means extended duty for the top players of each team. The Hawks have seen plenty of the Mahovich boys who have accounted for nine of the Canadiens' 17 goals in the series. Yvan Cournoyer has contributed heavily to the Montreal offense and Ken Dryden has been virtually unbelievable in the Canadiens' net.

The Hawks again will count heavily upon Bobby Hull who takes his regular turns on the line, kills penalties and skates the power play.

"He's strong and thrives on work," said Reay, who was forced to use defenseman Pat Stapleton almost 39 minutes Sunday. The plucky Stapleton and his sidekick, Bill White, could see as much duty in the finale.

The Canadiens will be shooting for their 15th Cup since the NHL took over the series in 1926. The Hawks will be seeking their fourth Cup and first since 1961.

Unlike football's Super Bowl with $25,000 to each winner and baseball's World Series, with some $18,000 a winner last year, pride and not money is the factor in the Stanley Cup.

The final series means $3,000 to each winner and $1,500 to each loser. Because the Hawks finished first in the West Division and the Canadiens third in the East, each team's total play-off money varies.

If the Hawks are victorious they'll net $10,000 a man. If they lose it'll be cut to $8,500. If the Canadiens win, they'll total $8,250 a man and $6,750 each if they lose.

Also at stake is the Conn Smythe Trophy for the Most Valuable Player in the series. It carries a bonus of $1,500.

Triple Crown Within Reach, Canonero Is Relaxed for Belmont

BALTIMORE (AP) — Canonero II, surprise winner of the Kentucky Derby and Pre-akness, was scheduled to take a "victory" walk in front of the Pimlico stands today as a tug of war appeared to be developing for his services.

Meanwhile Canonero, who was to depart for New York Thursday for the June 5 Belmont Stakes, appeared to be facing steadily dwindling opposition for the third leg of the Triple Crown.

Pedro Baptista, who races the colt in the name of his son-in-law, Edgar Caibett, said he would be in Miami Thursday to discuss a $4 million bid from a Florida syndicate for the $1,200 yearling.

And the Venezuelan government, which controls racing in the colt's home country, reportedly was interested in buying the horse to spur interest in breeding in the South American nation.

"The government officials have said they would like to keep him at home," a spokesman said Monday, "to spur interest in breeding created by Canonero in the Derby and Pre-akness."

"But I doubt if the government can match the offer of the people in Miami," he continued. "If the government offers anything less, Mr. Baptista would be a poor businessman to accept it."

Baptista, a Caracas businessman, said he would have to retain four shares in any syndication, keep any earnings from the Belmont Stakes, with the horse running under the original ownership in the Belmont.

Canonero II, with a chance to become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948, has scared off quite a bit of opposition for the final leg.

Jim French, runner-up in the Derby and third in the Pre-akness, appears to be the only certain repeater from the previously beaten fields.

Eastern Fleet, runner-up by 1½ lengths in the Pre-akness as Canonero II set a Pimlico track record of 1:54 for 1 3-16 miles, is still a question mark.

Other possibilities for the Belmont include Good Behavior, who would be an entry with Jim French for trainer Johnny Campo; Bold Reasoning, unbeaten winner of the recent Withers Stakes; Run The Gantlet and On Your Toes.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Television and Scout to Washington Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The City." ABC's two-hour film feature Monday night, was a formal introduction to Mayor Thomas Jefferson Alcala, who will be around the channels next season on a weekly basis.

Television, over the seasons, has had an assortment of dedicated doctors, district attorneys and lawmen. Next season, it will have a dedicated mayor in the person of Anthony Quinn, one of the big motion picture names prepared to take a flyer in series TV.

Mayor Alcala is a big, rumpled man, infinitely more interested in running the city and helping his constituents than in developing his image. He is, of course, very honest and brave. In the pilot film he was charging around trying to shrug off police protection although there was a bomber running around trying to get him.

Although the mayor's city—he has been head man for 16 years—is never named, the background has a distinct Southwestern flavor, and the mayor occasionally slips into fluent Spanish when talking with his housekeeper or some of his people.

The action in the film centered on the mayor's efforts to postpone action on converting some university-owned land into an industrial park. The project had caused disturbances among students violently opposed to the plan, and the mayor, of course, also was reluctant to see open spaces disappear.

The bomber managed to plant his device in the mayor's elevator in time for the explosive climax, but his as well as the mayor's escape from injury was both predictable and familiar. It was, in fact, a pretty slow-moving story, obviously put together to introduce a character.

Quinn does a good job as a harried, impatient man faced not only with day-by-day problems and a fanatic at large but with the necessity of campaigning for re-election.

The concept, pruned down to an hour may work nicely as a series. They may have a little problem with his marital status. Mayor Alcala, unlike most of TV's dedicated servants of the people, is not a widower. His wife, whom he has not seen for seven years, is teaching school in distant Pennsylvania. The marriage went to pieces after the death of their son and the mayor makes daily, brooding visits to his child's grave.

CBS will rearrange its schedule tonight to broadcast the Stanley Cup hockey finals from start to finish. Part two of its three-part "Justice Delayed, Justice Denied" news series, scheduled for 10 p.m. EDT., will be broadcast at 7:30, followed an hour later by the game between the Montreal Canadiens and the Black Hawks from Chicago.

Can't Stop Drilling in Park

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office said today that the state apparently cannot forbid Ouachita Exploration from drilling for minerals in Moro Bay State Park.

The park was established in 1967 by the legislature but the definite boundaries were not established until last Nov. 1 when the state acquired a 50-year lease for $1.

Last March, however, Ouachita Exploration obtained a lease on the minerals through a bankruptcy settlement with Texas Continental Oil.

L. E. Surles, director of the Parks and Tourism Department, asked the attorney general's office whether a company could legally drill in the park even if it did hold mineral rights to the property.

Arnold Palmer is the only other player above $100,000, placing second with $106,796.

In the exemption point standings, based on tournament performances, Nicklaus leads with 130,607.5. Gary Player is second with 94,144.3. Hubert Green, winner of the Houston tournament, moved into ninth place with 58,704.6 points.

May Cut U.S. Troops to Press Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird may use a Senate move to halve U.S. troop strength in Europe as a prod to obtain greater contributions by NATO allies toward improving alliance forces.

Although Laird is strongly opposed to the troop reduction, the sources say they expect Laird to cite the Senate move as one of the realities allied defense ministers must recognize as they weigh proposals to on modernize and strengthen NATO.

The meeting of defense ministers will come next week after the Senate acts on a proposal by Senate Leader Mike Mansfield to reduce the present U.S. garrison in Europe to 150,000 men.

Whatever the Senate outcome, Laird could use it as ammunition.

If the Senate votes for the amendment, the issue would remain unsettled until tested in the House.

If the Senate rejects the proposal, Mansfield moves could still serve as a warning that Congress may force a drastic U.S. pullback unless the European allies chip in more and ease the U.S. financial burden.

Pentagon officials say Laird's chief concern at the NATO meetings will be to push for additional commitments to strengthen the alliance through modernizing equipment and correcting longstanding deficiencies, rather than increasing the number of troops.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Heat Affects Heart Action

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—Do I need to get a doctor's approval to use sauna or steam baths?

Dear Reader—Perhaps soon you will. The Federal Trade Commission is studying the possibility that they are health hazards. Why? Because both dry and wet heat cause changes in the action of the heart and circulation. The heart has to work harder and the blood pressure goes up. This, incidentally is why exercise in the heat puts a greater stress on the circulation than exercise in cool weather.

The FTC has already issued a warning to elderly people and those with high blood pressure, heart disease and diabetes to consult their physician before using dry or wet heat. The commission also suggests sauna baths and steam baths should not be used until at least an hour after eating and not at all while under the influence of alcohol and a variety of drugs and medicines, including stimulants (this does not include certain diet pills) and tranquilizers. The reducing parlors that depend upon steam baths may be in serious trouble.

Well, better them than thee. Dear Dr. Lamb—After an examination my doctor said I had severe atrophic vaginitis. Is there danger of cancer? Also what is the cure? Should I avoid intercourse? It's very painful.

Dear Reader — Atrophic vaginitis usually occurs in older women. It simply is atrophy of the spongy cellular lining of the vagina, with a decrease in the normal secretions causing "dryness." It is caused by insufficient female hormone. The maturation and normal function of the sex organs is dependent upon hormones and when these are not sufficient, for example after the menopause, normal function is curtailed.

The "dry" vaginal vault is easily irritated and painful intercourse is the rule. The condition can usually be relieved by taking female hormones. Dear Dr. Lamb — What makes one's stool a very light color, almost a real light clay color? Does it mean I have a bad liver? Doctor says my gall bladder is all right. When I eat greens or beets and things like that the stool is a natural color.

Dear Reader—The color of the stool is normally dependent upon the food you eat and the various pigments the liver releases into the bile. It is true that if the bile flow into the intestine is prevented that the stools can become very light, clay colored or chalky in appearance.

People who eat little meat or who consume large amounts of milk, bread and foods without pigments sometimes have light clay colored stools. Taking iron tablets, eating foods like greens, add pigment to the stool, giving it color. Bleeding into the digestive tract can cause black tarry stools. Bleeding ulcers can cause this.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Precision Club Aids Slam

It picked up 13 IMPs for them in the 1970 finals when the North American pair failed to get to a slam with the North-South cards.

The bidding in the box is Hsiao and Lin. The club opening guaranteed at least 16 high-card points and one no-trump response showed from 8-10 points. The two-club call was Stayman and the two-diamond rebid by North denied a four-card major.

South's two-heart bid guaranteed at least a five-card suit and North's raise showed three hearts and fixed hearts as trump. Thus, it was impossible for them to get into diamonds.

The heart slam made easily although hearts broke 4-1 and Hsiao had to take the diamond finesse. Diamonds would have been a surer contract.

Woman Heads United Presbyterians

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — For the first time, United Presbyterians have elected a woman, Lois H. Stair of Waukesha, Wis., as moderator, the church's top presiding officer. She is the second woman within a week to be elected to the highest office of a U.S. denomination.

Mrs. Stair, a warmly vivacious church worker and businesswoman, defeated three male candidates near midnight Monday at the opening session of the denomination's 183rd General Assembly. "You have set a precedent," she told about 2,000 cheering delegates. "You have taken a risk. You have said you trust me, a lay person, a woman, to hold the church's highest office."

The 3.1 million-member church is the nation's seventh largest Protestant body.

Last Friday, the American Baptist Convention elected a woman as its president, Ruth Rohlf of Seattle, Wash.

The outgoing United Presbyterian moderator, the Rev. Dr. William R. Laws of Columbus, Ind., embraced Mrs. Stair and told the assembly: "You have elected the prettiest moderator we've ever had."

Mrs. Stair led from the start in a contest with two clergymen and a layman. She won on the third ballot, receiving 392 votes in a system that required 388 for victory. Her selection was made unanimous by a vigorous voice vote.

A pert, blue-eyed woman with greying hair, Mrs. Stair came into the national church limelight as a United Presbyterian delegate to the Consultation on Church Union, a project seeking to unite nine major denominations with a total of 25 million members.

Vote Near on Ending War in Vietnam

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats will vote again Wednesday on ending U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war by Dec. 31 and the results could give some indication whether 54 similar proposals in House channels have any chance at passage.

The Democratic caucus last month rejected a Dec. 31 pull-out but Rep. Bella S. Abzug, D-N.Y., who is asking for the new vote, says she is "very optimistic" the result will be different this time.

The next test of the Dec. 31 deadline in the House itself is scheduled next week when the House Armed Services Committee will consider whether an amendment to end the war will be attached to the military weapons bill. The proposal would cut off weapons for the war effective next Jan. 1 unless

Mrs. R.L. Gosnell was honored by members of the First Presbyterian Church and friends Sunday, May 16. A new Grand Piano was dedicated to the service of the Church in a special program that was largely devoted to music.

Following the service Mrs. Gosnell greeted friends at the rear of the Church. A luncheon with 70 guests honored Mrs. Gosnell later at Perry's Restaurant in Perrytown.

Black Sheriff on Trial for Alleged Abuse of a Black

By REX THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
OPELIKA, Ala. (AP) — Prosecution testimony has pictured Lucius Amerson as a vengeful Negro sheriff whose pistol-whipping of a black prisoner after a county jail shoot-out prompted a fellow officer to cry out, "It's wrong, all wrong."

The trial of Amerson and his Negro chief deputy on civil rights charges growing out of the beating of Wilbert Dean Harris goes into its second day today with U.S. attorneys ready to call more witnesses.

Amerson, the first black sheriff in Alabama since Reconstruction, and Deputy Richard Coleman Jr. are accused of inflicting summary punishment on Harris following a gunfight at Macon County Jail in nearby Tuskegee last Aug. 22.

Harris was being booked on a drunken driving charge at the time. U.S. and defense attorneys agreed in their opening statements that Harris managed to pull a small pistol, disarmed other deputies and began firing, wounding one officer when a bullet ricocheted.

The attorneys said Amerson and his deputies fled the jail and returned the gunfire.

The prisoner finally surrendered and walked out of the jail, and it was then, witnesses testified Monday, that Amerson, 37, struck him on the head with a pistol and Coleman, 27, kicked him as he lay on the ground, bleeding.

Defense attorneys, led by Alabama's white attorney general, Bill Baxley, and state Rep. Fred Gray, a Negro, did not deny that the officers roughed up Harris. But they said in opening statements that Amerson acted in self-defense, fearful that the prisoner would start shooting again, and that the officers were under strain after having been the target of Harris gunfire.

Bus, Rail Strike Grips Japan

TOKYO (AP) — One of Japan's worst railway strikes crippled the public transportation system today as wage negotiations broke down.

Thousands of commuters in Tokyo, Osaka and other large cities went home on bicycles, hired buses or in their own cars, causing traffic jams on almost all major highways. Thousands of others jammed into commuter trains of the state-owned Japan National Railway—JNR.

An estimated 30 million commuters were affected by the 24-hour strike, compared to the 17 million hit by a similar strike last Friday.

Slowdown Looms for Coal Mines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Coal production started slowing to a halt, some auto workers were on shortened hours and two major cereal makers furloughed 3,500 employees today as the effects of the nationwide rail strike began to mount.

Some 300,000 commuters awoke to another day's scramble for alternate transportation—usually buses or car pools—and the Post Office Department invoked contingency plans to keep the mail moving.

Produce and citrus growers in Texas and Florida watched as tons of their perishable products piled up on rail siding and in terminals.

While Congress weighed emergency legislation to end the walkout by the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, the strike sent tremors of impending paralysis through the nation's economy.

Many coal companies in West Virginia, the nation's top producing state, advised workers Monday that there would be no work today. U.S. Steel, the nation's biggest producer of steel, but back coke production by about 10 per cent Monday because of the strike and said that if the walkout lasted 48 hours "the problems will really start to get serious."

A spokesman for Bethlehem

Steel Corp. said the company can operate for a day or two but then "we will have to curtail operations and begin major employee layoffs."

In the auto industry, Chrysler Corp. and General Motors Corp. put some plants on short shifts Monday. American Motors Corp. said it would "shut down, period," if nothing is settled by Wednesday night.

Despite the growing seriousness of the situation, there was a lighter side to the walkout as well.

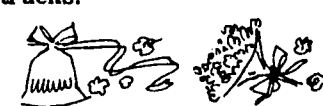

Nineteen circus elephants, stranded in a New Jersey rail yard, walked through Lincoln Tunnel under the Hudson River Monday night so the show could go on today in New York City.

The strike, which came on the first day of National Transportation Week, delayed the start of some trains in the Amtrak system—the government-run operation to improve passenger service.

The Sante Fe's Amtrak-operated passenger trains made runs to San Diego and Chicago from Los Angeles Monday and there was a scheduled run to Seattle today.

Livestock movement was reported generally unaffected by the strike but produce growers were in a different situation.

Supervisory personnel on most of the nation's railroads worked Monday to move perishable shipments that were en route when the strike started to places where they could be transferred to refrigerated trucks.

DAMP MEMORIES
LONDON (AP) — Relics dating back to the 1920s were dredged from Kensington Garden Park's Round Pond when it was drained for the first time in 40 years.

Among the finds were the wrecks of several generations of small boys' model boats, some army tin hats tossed in by celebrating soldiers at the end of the war and an old sceptre from a nearby statue of Queen Victoria, which is regularly raided by pranksters.
